

Please Post!

the New England Society for the Treatment of Trauma and Dissociation in conjunction with the Institute for Continuing Education presents:

Gary Bailey, DHL, MSW, ACSW
February 9, 2019

LOCATION: Scottish Rite Masonic Museum & Library, 33 Marrett Road, Lexington, MA

MORNING PROGRAM: 9 am – 12:30 pm  Free for members. Cost varies for nonmembers.  Details at www.nesttd-online.org. Race STILL Matters: Between the World and US*  (3CE) Since racism and cultural bias affect all of us, individual practitioners must constantly re-evaluate their own attitudes, biases and personal experiences with people of different races and ethnic groups, gender, social class, religious and spiritual beliefs, sexual orientation, age, and mental and physical ability. Dr. Bailey’s presentation will explore the role that cultural humility, intersectionality, and minority stress theory can have on the therapeutic relationship. He will also discuss utilizing a social justice framework in the therapeutic relationship and will examine how mental health professionals can play an important part in promoting equity, equality and fairness in their practice, as well as the role that they must play in addressing racism, and other forms of oppression in the clinical environment. *Between the World and Us is borrowed from the title of Ta-Nehisi Coates’ award winning book – Between the World and Me. Registration will open in mid-December. CE details on website. Go to www.nesttd-online.org.	AFTERNOON INTENSIVE: 1:15 – 4:30 pm  Members: $70; Nonmembers $85 My Identity Matters: The Intersection of Trauma and Racism (3CE) Spaces for intensive will be limited. Attendance at morning program is a prerequisite. Not free for members. This Intensive will explore how racism, discrimination, and racialized violence are primary or secondary traumas for many individuals. The stark reality of hate in America disproportionately impacts individuals who have been historically discriminated against and who have been generationally disenfranchised. Since individuals who are a part of these communities deserve access to safe and affirming places to get much needed physical and emotional care, participants will take part in an interpersonal dialogue on the impact of racism and oppression in their practice. Participants will examine the role that an understanding of the concepts of intersectionality, race, gender identity and sexual identity can have in the delivery of effective trauma informed care. <hr/> NESTTD: info@nesttd-online.org 508-964-2234
---	--

Dr. Gary Bailey is a Professor of Practice at Simmons College Graduate School of Social Work, and at the Simmons School of Nursing and Health Sciences. At the School of Social Work, he is the Director of the Urban Leadership Program and coordinates the Dynamics of Racism and Oppression Sequence. Dr. Bailey has served in distinguished leadership roles as the immediate past President of the International Federation of Social Workers, past President of the National Association of Social Workers and past President of the Massachusetts Chapter of NASW. Professor Bailey has received numerous prestigious awards throughout his career. He is a prolific author and presenter, and has written numerous articles on racism, cultural diversity, LGBTQ+ topics, racial and social justice issues, to name only a few. He has been a frequent contributor to The Huffington Post. Dr. Bailey has presented frequently on these topics locally, nationally and internationally.